Create a foundation for consistent, end-to-end success

Technological advances and globalization are having a profound impact on the IT operating model. It can be difficult to improve operating performance while meeting market demands for lower costs, higher quality services, shorter response times and higher returns on investment.

And while quality improvements drive organizational performance and process excellence, without strong governance, best practices and processes in place, it can be next to impossible to successfully implement IT organizational improvements and deliver on key company strategies. You need a strategic project management office (PMO) that seamlessly works with your existing resources, processes and business plan to enhance IT efficiency, ensure delivery and reduce costs.

PMO Services empowers your organization to effectively deliver on your key strategic initiatives and manage your growing portfolio of project demands. We help you create or mature a PMO based on specific people, processes and tools through detailed analysis and hands-on consulting — resulting in complete alignment of your projects and strategy.

Our services range from basic project and program management staff augmentation to full PMO managed services. We can also help assess the maturity of your current internal PMO framework, make recommendations for improvement and assist in the implementation of new and improved processes.

Maximize the value of your projects

Our PMO framework includes a detailed governance maturity model and supporting toolkit to centralize project management functions. This helps you effectively and efficiently promote consistency and standardization — increasing quality and throughput, and improving your IT governance model and processes to maximize the return on your IT investment.

Customize services to suit your unique needs

Based on the scope of services, portfolio size, complexity and risk, PMO Services provides the right services and tools for your organization. Choose from five customizable and scalable services, from PMO assessment and basic project management to fully managed services.
